

Lifetime Floodplain Management Achievement

Presented in 2019 to:

Pat Griggs
Retired FEMA

Pat has recently retired and is recognized for dedication to floodplain management throughout NJ during her career. She was passionate about her work and was a pleasure to work with.

2019
Floodplain Management
Leadership Award

Presented to:

Henry Gajda
Public Policy Director,
NJ League of Conservation Voters

Henry was instrumental in raising awareness of the recent Stormwater Utility enabling legislation, which Governor Murphy recently signed into law

2019
Outstanding Local Floodplain
Management Official

Presented to:

Mary Tangolics, CFM
Floodplain Administrator
Borough of Sea Bright

Mary has been instrumental in assisting the Borough with a systematic approach to compliance with the local floodplain ordinance in the wake of Superstorm Sandy. She worked to resolve issues raised by FEMA and got the Borough into CRS as a Class 6.

2019
Founders Award

Presented to:

Craig Wenger
Baker

Craig has put many years into NJAFM and is deserving of this award.

2019
Outstanding Floodplain
Management Award

Presented to:

Lost Valley Nature Park, Manville
Ellen Creveling,
The Nature Conservancy and
Mayor Richard Onderko,
Borough of Manville

This 65-acre nature park is built on former frequently flooded homes that have been acquired and demolished. It is returning the natural and beneficial to the floodplain of the Millstone River and Royce Brook.

2019
Media Award

Presented to:

Rachel Hogan-Carr
Nurture Nature Center

Rachel was featured on the Philadelphia public radio station WHYY radio show "The WHY", this past July. She was interviewed about severe weather alerts and our "fatigue" with them; Very well done!